EXCLUSIVE EXECUTIVE DINNER BY INVITATION ONLY

NAVIGATING THE FUTURE MASTERING SUPPLY CHAIN TRANSFORMATION IN TIMES OF RECESSION

DATE & LOCATION

Paris, France

June 15th, 2023

You are cordially invited to discuss emerging trends and challenges of Digital Transformation in Manufacturing especially in times of limited budget. Join your peers to share insights on topics covering supply chain management and its impact on sustainability, cost optimization and risk management.

In today's global manufacturing landscape, product teams face immense pressure to balance innovation, cost-effectiveness, and sustainability, while staying compliant with ever-evolving regulations. At this event, you will have the opportunity to learn about the challenges faced by peers in the manufacturing industry with regards to ESG, rapidly evolving regulations, and supply chain disruptions. The event will also focus on how procurement, product engineering, and the CIO can solve these rising challenges with limited resources.

With the emergence of new technologies and data solutions with the potential to drive transformational change within your business, how do business leaders ensure they make the right investments and ensure business partners are involved in the decision-making process. How do they navigate their way through jargon like AI, Digital twins and Industry 4.0?

WE WILL DISCUSS:

- ▶ How to leverage IT infrastructure to solve challenges around evolving regulations and customer demands to avoid falling behind in the market
- ▶ How artificial intelligence and multi-output models can help core business teams work together more efficiently
- ▶ Explore creative ways on how you balance your sustainability ambitions when budgets for new hires and technology are limited
- ▶ The importance of data management to enable collaboration amongst product teams
- ▶ The impact on your organizations day to day operations if you get digital invests wrong
